Keeping Up -- With Uplanders

By V. V. P.

TODAY, HERE, EVERYWHERE

We have listened with great interest to the McCarthy hearings. . .

We have read much recently about the gravity of the Indo-China situation. . .

We follow with much concern the apparent success of the Reds in spreading their propaganda to the bewildered people of the world. . .

Anything can happen, even an H-bomb might fall on us!

What a dark future.

As one ponders over the great issues of the day, he could keep himself in a dangerously nervous state.

We awakened a little early the other morning and with great anxiety reviewed the plight of the nation and the world.

And then we recalled some pictures we saw the other day of an organization that helps handicapped children. The revealing movie, among other scenes, pictured a happy-faced youngster rushing to his mother. No, the lad was not running, he was hobbling on very weak and twisted limbs, barely able to keep himself from falling. His mother's hands were outstretched and as he touched them his chubby face beamed a big smile of satisfaction; the mother, you could easily see, was thrilled with the accomplishment. Another youngster, reported never to be able to walk, was pictured as he played in the Donald Jacobs' swimming pool at Claremont.

These pictures somehow changed our thought from these far-away problems to the everyday routine and endless responsibility of some parents and the extra heavy burdens that fall to others.

Have you noticed the abundance of roses and flowers this season?

In many yards all over our community, flowers are sending forth their brightest colors and biggest blooms.

We gave Clyde DuVall a ride on his way home from the bank. Paul Daggs was seen off in the distance tipping his well-worn hat to a woman. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shuford who are going to Europe for a year told us goodbye. Then we recalled the very pleasant visit at the L. D. Johnson golden wedding reception and of the many handsome members of the family.

Carl Masingale waved cheerily to us and we read into his greeting a hint that he was happy in not being a candidate for the county board of supervisors. He was considering it you know. Verne Hendrickson, always thinking of ways to promote the Sycamore Inn, busied himself with plans for some good printing.

And then there is the baseball season. We, as is our custom, are pulling for Hollywood and Cleveland.

Every era has its great, crucial problems. Right now, so many things might lead to world disaster.

With these factors we must, of course, be concerned. At the same time, there are always the bright and happy instances—and other people who have so many more problems.

ANOTHER PE PROMISE

S. F. Squires, vice-president and general manager of the Pacific Electric Railway Co. assured us the other day the "signed deeds for property needed by the city in extending C street would be ready in the very near future."

In looking over the July, 1953 issue of The Upland News, we noted a headline which read: "P.E. Ready to Sell Property To Buck."

Mr. Squires was reminded of that headline.

When the deeds are received, extension of the street is assured in accordance with the "Buck Deal."

"Our real estate department has been authorized to complete the transaction" he said in supporting his promises of early action.

WHERE IS THE PARROT?

A talkative parrott, mellowed with age and a tourist attraction at the Andyville store on Highland avenue just east of Etiwanda, is the reported victim of a thief. At least, "Polly" is missing.

Mrs. Frances Bonanno, 14470 Highland avenue, the mistress, says Polly has been in the family 54 years, having been purchased before the turn of the century by her late father-in-law, Leonardo Bonanno.

Among other things, Mrs. Bonanno is worried about Polly's food. The bird has been in her family 18 years "and has eating habits slightly different from the average parrot."

A reward is offered for the bird's return.

Senator Cunningham To Speak Friday

Presence of State Senator William Cunningham will be a highlight among politically-minded persons this weekend. He will be in the Upland Woman's clubhouse at noon Friday under sponsorship of the Chaffey Republican Women's club.

104 Textbooks Average For Eight Years Of School

Three first graders in Upland Elementary schools appear somewhat bewildered at what a pretty eighth grader, Jeannette Amberson, has to say. And rightly so, for Jeannette tells the primary youngsters that the 104 books stacked on the table and bookcase in the background include each textbook a student in the Upland School district uses during his eight years of elementary school, first through eighth. Linda Kay Wensel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delmer D. Wensel, 114 Twelfth avenue, is an Upland elementary school first grader. Wayne Kjorvestad, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Kjorvestad, 523 West street, and Henry Gonzales, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Gonzales, 766 San Ysidro drive, are first graders at Sierra Vista school. Jeannette is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Amberson, 1042 San Bernardino road. The students enacted this scene in observance of California Public Schools week, sponsored locally by the Masonic lodge in cooperation with the public schools and with the support of other local civic-minded oganizations. Books shown in the above picture represent only classroom textbooks and a few workbooks, and do not include library books or research and supplementary material used.

New Interior Work Started At Atwood's

Providing for an entirely new interior finish and new store arrangement, a major remodeling program is today underway in the J. J. Atwood Co. building.

Planned by a professional store designer, the plan calls for removal of all present interior fixtures and for rearrangement of the entire stock and departments. While the floor space will not be increased, the new arrangement is scheduled to provide for greater display of merchandise, greater service to patrons and improved facilities for aiding the public, according to John B. Atwood, head of the firm.

A six week program of remodeling was started this week. Carpenters and painters will be busy for a month. New fixtures and new equipment will then be placed and early in June the city's pioneer store will have a completely new "interior look." Slight changes will be made, including relocation of the stairs leading to the mezzanine floor and of some of the departments.

This will be the second major alteration program for the local concern, the front of the building having been modernized and changed previously.

"All of us in the Atwood organization greatly appreciate the people in our community," Mr. Atwood said. "We are eager to do everything possible to give them the greatest possible service. Our faith in our people and in our community leads us to continue the policy of making every possible improvement in our facilities and service."

Mr. Atwood is associated with his cousin, Ted Atwood, in management of the store.

Delegates Home From PTA Meet

Mrs. Dean P. Engle, outgoing president, and Mrs. Oren W. Volz, incoming president, of Upland Elementary school P-TA, were delegates to the state P-TA convention in San Francisco, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

The two Upland P-TA leaders motored to the convention with Mrs. Elmer Williams, Alta Loma P-TA; Mrs. Ben Allen and Mrs. Harry Harrison, Monte Vista P-TA.

The need for spiritual development was a topic which was given considerable time in all sessions of the convention, the local delegates report. "Progress Through Action" themed the meeting.

Mesdames Engle and Volz attended as many conferences of the convention as possible and report having "crammed just like students for final exams."

Expressing enthusiasm for the meeting, the women both hope more local P-TA members can attend the convention next year.

Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Grimmesey and family have moved from their Cucamonga residence of the past three years to 216½ East Nevada street, Ontario.

Public Schools Week Highlight

Open house continues through Friday at Upland public schools with the highlight of California Public Schools week here to be the program at 7:30 p.m. tonight at Upland Elementary school auditorium, open to the public. "The Public School—An American Heritage," themes the observance.

Hanna, chairman of the observance of the 35th annual Public Schools week for the Upland Masonic lodge, urged the public to attend the program and hear Alexander McLeish, director of guidance at Chaffey college and principal designate for the Upland High school, speak on the educational aspects of the new school. Superintendent Daniel B. Milliken, superintendent of the Chaffey district schools, will also speak on the physical structure of the school.

OBSERVE OPEN HOUSE

Parents and other interested residents are invited to visit the local schools at any time this week, and a number have taken advantage of this opportunity to see the local educational system in action. Tenants Signed For Shopping Bag Addition

With work scheduled to be started "within 30 days," five tenants have been signed for the eight-store addition to be built to the Shopping Bag market building on Foothill boulevard, according to Jerry Moss, developer.

The addition will be placed on the west of the building and will accommodate "service type" stores, including a restaurant.

Mr. Moss is a member of the organization that developed the Shopping Bag property and the residential subdivision extending south to Eleventh street. An addition to the super market building was a part of the original plan. Tenants are being sought for the three remaining store spaces, Mr. Moss said.

The "key store" in the new development will be a restaurant in the corner location. This has been leased to Mrs. Betty May Papayianis, who recently occupied a new residence on Euclid avenue.

Also leased for the newest Upland business development is a laundromat to Arthur J. Kerstein, Fontana; a dry cleaning shop to Edward Moll, Monrovia, and a beauty shop and barber shop will also be placed in the building.

160 Entries For Golfing Event

Fourth annual Red Hill Invitational Golf Tournament will be held Saturday and Sunday on the country club green. One hundred sixty entrants will participate in the 36-hole medal play, including some of the finest amateur golfers in California.

Last Year's defending champion, Frank Hoover from Bakersfield will defend his title, while well-known amateurs such as Dr. Bud Taylor, runner-up in the State amateur tournament, Bruce McCormick, former Walker Cup player, and Bruce Hixon, attempt to claim the title from him.

Contrary to last week's announcement, singer-actor Gordon MacRae is in the east and will not be able to participate in the invitational.

Teachers Get $100 Salary Increase

A $100 salary increase for all minimum and maximum salaries of all divisions of the salary schedule was voted Tuesday night at the special meeting of Upland School district Board of Trustees.

Discussion of the present salary schedule and the improvements requested by the salary committee of the Upland Teachers' club was held by the trustees with representatives of the Teachers' club present.

No additional improvement was possible for the 1954-55 school year, explained the trustees, as funds must be provided in the budget for additional teachers, additions to the administrative staff, site improvements and expenses incurred with the opening of Baldy View school.

Teachers granted permanent classification and all rights of tenure in the local district were the following: Margaret L. Dahms, Donald F. Demmon, Bernell Gregory, Mrs. Mary Lee Latimer, Mrs. Mabel V. McCrae, Wallace D. Randleman, Oliver H. Soderberg and Public Health Nurse Janet B. Johnson.

Cancer Crusade Over The Top

Upland's Cancer Crusade quota of $1,000 has been reached and passed in the month-long campaign, with $1364.08 reported in the local Cancer account yesterday by Mrs. Allen T. Mitchell, Jr., and Mrs. Leslie A. Kalil, co-chairmen of the crusade locally.

Some returns are yet to be reported with the neighbor-to-neighbor crusade still underway in several neighborhoods. Mrs. Mitchell urged that any resident who hasn't contributed but desires to do so mail such contribution to Cancer, c/o First National Bank of Upland.

Crandall To Boys State

Dale Crandall will represent the Upland American Legion at Boys' state in Sacramento, he having been chosen as the delegate from here to the annual conclave.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. K. L. Crandall, Bellview avenue, San Antonio heights. A junior at Chaffey high school, the student is a musician and is among the scholastic leaders on the campus.

Robert Theall was chairman of the committee representing the local Legionnaires in making the selection. All expenses are paid by the local post.

City Subdivision Problems Same Over Southland

"Upland faces the same problems concerning subdivision procedure as do other cities of Southern California," is the observation of Elwin Alder, city engineer, on his return from a session of subdivision problems of counties and cities in San Diego on Tuesday.

"The average for processing subdivisions in other cities of the Southland, according to a show of hands at the San Diego meeting, is from three to six months," Mr. Alder reported.

Conducted by the Real Estate Research program of the University of California, the meeting was authorized by the Advisory committee to the California Senate Interim committee on Subdivision Development and Planning.

"Month-End Plus One" Sale Opens In Upland Today

"Month End Plus One" sale is the heading over many advertisements in today's Upland News.

"What does that means?" people are going to be asking.

John B. Atwood, head the the merchants' division of the Upland chamber of commerce, hopes people do ask that question.

His answer is this:

"Upland merchants are having a month end sale, including April 29 and 30 and extending their special sale prices for an additional day, May 1. Therefore, it is a month end plus one more day sale."

Real special bargains are offered at many of the local stores this weekend. The sale heading is different and the sale features are unusually special.

Nominations For Legion Officers Due At Regular Meeting

Angling Season Opening Saturday With Local Streams Well Stocked

Sportsmen take to Southern California streams Saturday with the opening of the six month long early trout angling season, and one of the best opening weekends in recent years is in store for the anglers with 1,500,000 catchable rainbow trout planted in the streams of the state's southern area.

Outlook for fishing in local streams of San Bernardino and Los Angeles counties is good to excellent, with waters higher than normal and heavily stocked. Best bets, according to Game Warden Henry Bartoll of Claremont, include Cucamonga creek, Big Bear lake, South Fork and Upper Santa Ana river, larger lakes and deep creeks.

BEST OPENING WEEKEND

Wardens of the Department of Fish and Game predict the best opening weekend in recent years, providing the threatening storms or possible warm weather don't contribute to high, unclear waters to upset the anglers' big weekend.

Nearby mountain streams are expected to attract throngs over the weekend, including local anglers and other Southland residents. Nearby streams stocked early this week for the May 1 season opening include San Antonio canyon creek, Cucamonga creek, Lytle creek, Coldwater creek and San Dimas reservoir. West fork of Cucamonga creek was not planted this year, however, due to fire damage.

PLANT ICE HOUSE CANYON

Scott Soule, fisheries management supervisor for the State Fish and Game department, said that a small plant of catchable rainbow trout was made in lower Ice House canyon creek, despite a policy of not planting catchables in creeks inaccessible to trucks. He said the planting was accomplished with the assistance of local sportsmen, who packed the trout in to the stream.

In addition to the 1½ million catchable trout, Mr. Soule also reports the planting in higher, inaccessible streams of 249,000 fingerling rainbow trout and 54,000 fingerling rainbow trout. This planting is done to sustain the fish in the higher country.

Long-Time City Nurse Honored

Before a large audience in Upland Woman's clubhouse last night, Miss Bertha Schwarzwaelder, long-time Ontario city nurse, was honored as the "Personality of the Year."

She was selected by a "jury" of Upland-Ontario citizens for her service to the public "beyond the call of duty." While her professional services concern satisfying the needs of many people, Miss Scharzwaelder was described as a person who has spent many hours in aiding youths and unfortunate adults.

For 28 years Miss Schwarzwaelder has been city nurse and for more than half a century her interest, energy and work week went far beyond the accepted routine.

In glowing terms she was honored by the community. The B'nai B'rith is sponsor of the annual award to the outstanding personality.

In the foreground are foundations for several homes, while across the street the frameworks for a number of new homes are being completed. The fog in the background, almost obscuring the view of Red Hill, is not in Upland but had settled between Upland and Cucamonga. However, as neither community claimed it, it soon moved on.

Planners Initiate Campus Rezoning

Upland Planning commission is tiating a zone change for the idential area bordering the st side of Campus avenue, th from the alley north of othill boulevard to Thirteenth eet.

The proposed change in zone m R-1-C to R-3 to permit mul- le dwellings would affect the st three lots (150 feet) west Campus avenue only. Several ltiple dwellings are now locat- in the prescribed area, and new zone would permit de- opment of several lots and be keeping with the multiple un- of Los Olivos on the east side Campus avenue.

This action was favored by the mmission instead of the spot ning requested by John Cruz for his property at 1133 North Campus, the northwest corner of Campus and West street. His planned addition of a second house on his lot would improve the appearance of both streets concerned, as his present dwelling is on the back of his lot facing on Campus. The front two-thirds of the lot is vacant.

Simon Eisner, city planning consultant, recommended the city initiated zone change after studying the area concerned. He termed the plan a "logical transition from the housing development to the single family dwelling neighborhood" of West, Pine and Thirteenth streets.

A public hearing on the zone change proposal was set for the next regular meeting of the Commission on May 28.

Three Bedroom Homes Underway In Development

Looking north on Sierra Madre street, a row of homes in the Red Hill plaza 46-home project can be seen, with one of the architectural examples shown clearly in the foreground in the early stages of cinstructiin. The most recent development in the Upland area is located north of Arrow highway and east of Grove avenue, just outside the east city limits of Upland. Each of the homes contains 1,050 square feet of floor space, and includes three bedrooms, one bathroom, fireplace and with attached garage. Sales are now being made at the project.

Uplander Tells Of Fly Killer

J. L. Turner, who is the county and the city sanitarian, offered a suggestion for the abatement of flies. Mr. Turner resides at 714 North Laurel avenue.

His explanation follows:

"You can salt and pepper common house flies to death. This fly control method is so simple, cheap and effective that you may want to try it this summer.

"Here is how it works, according to United States Department of Agriculture entomologists, who find that house flies have a sweet tooth for dry sugar.

"Thoroughly mix a level teaspoon of either diazinon or malathion with two cups of granulated sugar. Pour this mixture into a glass jar; punch a few holes in the lid and you are ready.

CAUTION—POISON! . . .

"The insecticide is poison, so don't mix it in the kitchen, or leave the shaker where it will cause trouble. Add a colored dye so the mixture will not be mistaken for common sugar.

"Each day shake out a thin film of sugar grains over dry areas where flies gather outside the house around barns or chicken houses. The flies start dying within 15 or 20 minutes after they eat. It even gets flies which are resistant to DDT.

"United States Department of Agriculture entomologists say that in many tests they've killed 90 per cent of the flies with four hours of shaking out the bait.

"If you continue these daily shakings for two or three weeks, you should not have many flies left. A pound of 25 per cent wettable powder of either of these insecticides costing 65 cent to $1, should last a year."

Flowers Abundant For "April in Paris" Dance Decor

"April in Paris" was artfully simulated at Upland Woman's club house Friday night for the dance given to benefit the Cancer and March of Dimes funds of the Upland community at the club. Mrs. Charles B. Shuford, 657 Shasta way, general chairman for the event, puts finishing touches to basket arrangements while Mrs. O. E. Hatch, Jr., 645 Redding way, pushes in place the flower cart abundant with April blossoms. The floral designs against the backdrop of the Gay Paree decorated the stage for the dance. Woman's Club Elects Officers; Hears Lecture by Dr. Alonzo Baker

Highlighting the business part of the meeting of the Upland Woman's club Tuesday afternoon in the clubhouse was election of officers for the coming year.

Mrs. Robert L. Jones was re-elected for her second term as president, and serving with her will be Mrs. Clark Green, first vice-president; Mrs. Bruce Claflin, second vice-president; Mrs. Elmer Redfield, third vice-president; Mrs. J. F. Sawyer, fourth vice-president; Mrs. James C. Stamm, Jr., recording secretary; Mrs. Howard F. Clark, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Earl E. Dunning, treasurer; Mrs. Homer G. Glunt, parliamentarian; Mrs. Harry M. Wright, auditor. Directors elected were the Mesdames Francis H. Rogers, B. M. Paul, Irvin Hartley, Clyde R. Tigert, Leonard Collins, and Joseph Nepote.

Communism has no ethical or religious standards, Dr. Baker said, while our freedom stems from religion, and the sword of religion is the greatest threat to Communism. It is his suggestion that the United States put more stress on religion in Voice of America, and he feels that the opportunity of putting major accent on religion in propaganda has been overlooked.

Mrs. Bruce Claflin, program chairman, presented the speaker.

The president, Mrs. Jones, presided over the meeting, which opened with the singing of "America," led by Mrs. Ralph J. Wilson, with Mrs. John C. Bane at the piano. Mrs. William A. Smith led in the pledge of allegiance, and the collect was read by Mrs. Paul M. Young.

Mrs. Lyman A. Keys introduced the guests. Announcement was made that Mrs. Anthony J. Barone and Mrs. Howard Weeks are taking reservations for the annual May party to be held May 4. Luncheon will be served at 12:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Daniel B. Milliken and Mrs. C. P. Jacobs presided at the tea table, which was centered with an April garden of flowers against miniature lattice work, and colorful figurines.

White snowballs and red maple foliage decorated the stage, and in the foyer was an artistic arrangement of spring flowers with a gay parasol in the background, both the work of Mrs. Milliken.

At the meeting of the Study section at 1 o'clock, Mrs. Lucille Sutherland of Claremont told of her trip to Greece and showed many beautiful colored slides.

Woman's Club Benefit Dance Is Colorful Event

Upland polio and cancer funds will benefit from the "April in Paris" dance sponsored by the Upland Woman's club Friday evening in the clubhouse. Seventy members and guests were in attendance and danced to the music of the James Haywood Ramblers.

A flower cart filled with bouquets of spring flowers, in a Paris setting, with a large sketch of the Eiffel Tower as background, highlighted the stage. This was the work of Mrs. Charles B. Shuford.

Around the sides of the room were card tables decorated with miniature floral arrangements and candles.

Three spring creations by "Lily-Dash-Hey" were on display in the foyer for guests to admire. These fabulous hats, the work of Mrs. Michael Morgan, lent an air of hilarity to the dance later in the evening.

Supper was served during intermission. The serving table was centered with a miniature artist, with easel and paints, flanked by three blue tapers. Mrs. O. E. Hatch, Jr. was responsible for this arrangement.

Mrs. Harry Wright, Mrs. Geo. Kreigh and Mrs. Vernon V. Paine greeted the members and their guests at the door. Credit for the success of the event is due to Mrs. Shuford, chairman, and her committee members, the Mesdames Hatch, Morgan, Leonard Collins, William A. Smith, George Kreigh and Don Ricci.

Student librarians at Upland Junior High school this week are Mary Jo Barton, Joyce and Cheril Van Graafeiland, Carol Bennett, Jan Shackelford, Dovie Dingman and Angie Bravo.

The refreshment table, with gold metallic cloth and gold serv- ice, was adorned with white car- nations and stock in gold vases, and white tapers. Pouring dur- ing the afternoon and evening were the four daughters-in-law, the Mesdames Robert Johnson, Ben Johnson, Tom Johnson and Richard Johnson; who were as- sisted by Miss Isabelle Whitney and the Mesdames Leah Dahl, Don Mateer and Crawley Burch.

Haldeman Commends City Organization

Stresses Importance Of Public Relations

Public relations are very important for a city, the same as they are for a business firm or a college, according to Abner B. Haldeman, who is the city's new councilman.

"I think the public relations of almost any organization can be improved," he said. "While the city's relations with the local people are good, I believe the council and all employes should make the most of every opportunity to have the most pleasant associations with every individual."

Mr. Haldeman, who took office April 20, expressed the belief as many citizens as possible should be brought into consultation with the councilmen and the council's committee.

"Many college administrators include student leaders in all discussions of educational and campus problems as a means of obtaining a broad and varied viewpoint," he continued. "I think that same plan might be followed in city affairs, in so far as possible."

Mr. Haldeman said he hesitated to express any views until after he became more familiar with the actual workings of the city council.

"Whenever possible," he continued, "I think it would be a good plan for the council committees to confer with citizens as a means of obtaining a full-rounded view. For example, the other night at my first meeting the council was asked to decide on a policy relative to the depth of placing sewer mains in the current and future development of West Eighth street property.

"It might be well for us to get the views of real estate men, contractors as well as some of the owners of property in that area, before it is decided who is to pay for the increased costs of the special sewer location."

Mr. Haldeman added with emphasis that he regards the city administration as being outstanding. Rather than any criticism, he said he commended the present municipal organization, service and public contacts.

"My only idea is that it might be possible to make some improvements," he continued. "That might be the only value of having new people occasionally on the council—thus new views and new approaches might be given to some of the ever-present problems."

Carrousel Ball Aids Sick Baby Endowment Fund

Once again San Antonio hospital Women's auxiliary has scored a success, this time with its benefit Carrousel ball held Friday evening at Red Hill country club.

Festive decorations featuring miniature carrousels, superb dinner served from the buffet and an evening of smooth dance music provided by George Duley's orchestra, along with much good company were combined to make this one of the outstanding social events of the season.

Mrs. Taylor was assisted by Mrs. James Harold Banks, Mrs. Charles R. Latimer, Mrs. Jack Anderson and Mrs. Arthur Flum.

Bridge Club Meets With Mrs. Eva Moore

Mrs. Eva G. Moore was hostess for the April meeting of the Evening Bridge club last Wednesday evening at her home, 320 North Euclid avenue, serving a dessert course.

Anne Goforth Is Bride Of Richard Morris

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Goforth, 1043 East Olive street, are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Anne, and Richard Morris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Morris of Ontario.

The couple exchanged vows on April 17 in the Wee Kirk O' the Heather in Las Vegas, Nevada, with the Rev. Lovatt, Baptist minister, officiating.

The bride chose for her wedding ensemble a two-piece dress of blue linen trimmed with white, with which she wore a blue straw hat and white accessories.

Attending her as maid of honor was Miss Barbara Teasley of Ontario, who wore a blue and white printed linen dress with blue and white accessories. Charles George was best man for the bridegroom.

Mrs. Goforth accompanied her daughter to Las Vegas.

The newlyweds are now residing at 132-A West I street, Ontario.

The new Mrs. Morris is a senior student at Chaffey high school. Her husband, a Chaffey high school graduate, is employed by Pryne and company in Pomona.

Friends and relatives have honored the bride with two parties. On Thursday evening about 25 members of the Allyn Avenue Baptist church of Ontario gathered at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. A. O. Rider, 804 Harvard place, Ontario, and gave her a shower of miscellaneous gifts for her new home.

Previously, neighbors and other friends entertained with a shower for her at the Goforth home.

Flying Ants Are Termites

More on Swarmer Termites, often mistakenly called Flying Ants.

In the spring and again in the fall the "Reticulitermes Hespesus", commonly called the Subterranean termite, and the "Zootermopsis Laticeps," known as the dampwood termite both have portions of the active colonies develop sight, sex, and wings.

They fly into the air and let the breezes as well as their weak wings carry them as far as possible. When they alight they immediately break off their wings or at least shed them and the male scurries around to select his mate. When he finally makes the selection the female becomes the master of the colony from then on, she is fed, watered and groomed as her body usually becomes much larger, in fact many times larger than normal. She is just a huge egg factory.

Ripley in his column mentioned her as the most prolific of all animal life. In some species of them, the queen turns out up to 90,000 eggs per day. These eggs are cared for by the young and usually hatch in about six weeks, maturing in about another ninety day. The Kaloterme Minor known as drywood termites swarms only once each year most often through September and October. Were it not for the fact that only a very small percentage of termit swarmers get together to mate we would be at the mercy of them and would not be able to use lumber for hardly any purpose.

Yet even with the few who are successful they can and do do a lot of damage. Make sure your home is free of them. Get full, free details of our Termite Safetey Contract for permanent protection.

Rita Bridenbaugh and Donald Miller Are Wed in St. George's Church

Now honeymooning in northern California are Mr. and Mrs. Donald Miller, whose marriage was solemnized Saturday morning at St. George's Catholic church in Ontario.

Guests came from as far north as San Francisco, as well as many Southern California points, to witness the rites.

The bride is the former Rita Eleanor Bridenbaugh and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel D. Bridenbaugh, 621 East Seventh street; and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Belle Miller of South Gate.

The bride was lovely in a gown of white lace over nylon net, and carried a white orchid, with streamers ties with hyacinths on a prayer book.

Little Selena Main, who acted as flower girl, wore a frock of white ruffled net and carried a ribbon-trimmed basket filled with pink roses.

Charles Shipley of North Hollywood served the bridegroom as best man.

The mother of the bride wore a light blue lace gown over taffeta, with blue hat and a rose corsage, while the bridegroom's mother chose a leaf green nylon dress, with tan accessories and a rose corsage.

After the newlyweds had received congratulations in the assembly hall of the church, they adjourned to the home of the bride's parents where refreshments were served.

On their return from their honeymoon trip, the couple will make their home at 314 South Alexandria, Los Angeles.

The new Mrs. Miller received her education in Fort Wayne, Ind., and is now employed in the office of an insurance company in Los Angeles. Her husband is serving in the U. S. Navy, and presently is stationed in Seattle, Washington.

Approve Four Records of Survey

Planners Favor Casey Way Plan

A subdivision map creating six new residential lots and a new street was approved for John P. Casey by Upland Planning commission Thursday night. Four records of surveys also received approval with a fifth one discussed favorably.

The Casey subdivision creates six new lots at the northwest corner of Fourteenth street and Fourth avenue, with a new street to be established, extending north from Fourteenth street and to be called Casey way. Approval of the subdivision map is subject to all requirements of the subdivision ordinance and to include all standard improvements. The pattern of the subdivision is a slight modification of the Master plan but is in conformity with a study made last month by Planning Consultant Simon Eisner and approved by the Commission.

FOUR EUCLID LOTS

A record of survey discussed favorably was that submitted by J. L. Lockard, proposing to establish four lots on the west side of Euclid avenue north of Seventeenth street. A width of 117 feet and depth of 172 feet is proposed for the lots, with the depth to conform to property now developed at the corner of Seventeenth street and Euclid avenue. No objection was raised to these lot sizes and Mr. Lockard was advised to submit a subdivision map.

Approval was given the record of survey of Robert S. Gray for one lot on the west side of Palm avenue north of Eleventh street, subject to all requirements of the subdivision ordinance as amended. A record of survey for splitting a lot in Mt. View addition was approved for J. J. Mealey, providing for easements for future streets and contributions to the park and school site and storm drain funds.

LOTS ON HERVEY AVENUE

Ernest McKinney also received permission to proceed with creation of three lots on the east side of Hervey avenue about 250 feet south of Arrow highway, also providing contributions are made to the park and school site and storm drain funds.

Two lots will be created on the south side of West street just west of Campus avenue, with a record of survey submitted by J. L. Blancett having been approved. Mr. Blancett will be required to install a four foot wide sidewalk on the 100 West street frontage, and contribute to the park and school site and storm drain funds for the west lot. An existing building at the rear of the lots must be altered, moved or razed so as to conform to city building code requirements and not extend across the new property line. The 60 foot frontage requirement was waived by the Commision in view of smaller lots existing in the neighborhood.

Residents of Orchard lane, who requested in a petition that the eucalyptus trees in the parkways of that street be replaced with Montebello ash, were authorized to make the change at their own expense and at no expense to the city.

Roper was one of over a score of Southern California Mobilgas dealers selected to go to Sun Valley, Idaho, to witness the finish of the famed economy run. Public Heart Symposium Is Tonight

A Heart symposium, open free of charge to the general public, will be presented tonight, eight o'clock, in the home economics auditorium of Chaffey college by San Bernardino county Heart association.

Invitations have been sent to 200 Ontario-Upland area residents who have requested heart information and literature in the past year, and to others who have expressed an interest in the work of the Association. However, it is not necessary to have an invitation in order to attend the symposium, according to Dr. Elmer O. Carlson, president of the Heart association.

"This educational program is presented to inform lay people of new advances in the cure of heart ailments and to bring hope to those who through lack of information needlessly concern themselves over heart maladies," states Dr. Carlson.

Principal speaker for the event will be Dr. Edward C. Rosenow, Jr., associate clinical professor of medicine, University of Southern California. His topic will be "Advances in the Treatment of Heart Disease." A film, "Wonder Engine of the Body," will also be shown.

A short intermission will allow those attending to write their questions and place them in the question box. The physicians composing the panel will study these questions, and then take their places on the stage for a panel answer period.

Suffering from cuts above the head and hands, and having lost several teeth, the accident victim told officers she must have fallen asleep at the wheel of her auto as she couldn't remember what happened.

Outbreak of Petty Thefts In Upland

An outbreak of petty thefts have been investigated recently by Upland Police department and over the past week, a half dozen thefts have occupied the officers, including one shoplifting case.

Sunday afternoon, Officer Thomas C. Davis and Sgt. Harlan J. Jackson were called to the Central Sand and Rock company's crusher on East Sixteenth street, where the theft of gasoline from a 500 gallon storage tank was discovered. Locks had been twisted off the cable gate and pump station. The amount of gasoline taken was undetermined. This report is one of many in recent weeks where gasoline was stolen from equipment of various types.

THIRD WHEEL-TIRE THEFT

Theft of a new white sidewall tire and wheel from the unlocked turnk of a 1953 Studebaker, which possibly occurred in Upland, is the third such report this month. Tires and wheels were recently stolen from Studebaker autos of local residents.

Report of the most recent theft came from Mrs. W. H. Beers of Claremont. On Tuesday night of last week Mrs. Beers was a guest at a bridge party in Upland, at the home of Mrs. Ruth S. Coons, 613 East Seventh street. During the evening the group heard a commotion outside the house but on investigating could find no one trespassing or anything disturbed. Saturday, after having found the tire and wheel, plus a $200 set of match golf clubs, bag and caddie cart missing from the trunk of her car, Mrs. Beers called her Upland hostess to report the possibility of the theft having occurred during the party. She said her car trunk is not kept locked.

PARK SPRINKLER HEADS

Officer Davis also investigated the Monday report of Emilio G. Valadez, a city employe, concerning the weekend theft of 11 brass sprinkler heads from newly installed lines in Upland Memorial park. The missing sprinkler heads are valued at a total of $7.26.

E. W. Hughes, special agent for the Shopping Bag food markets, called Officer Joseph Blouin to investigate a case of shoplifting at the local market Saturday. A San Bernardino woman was apprehended by Agent Hughes in the act of taking merchandise from the store not declared at the checkout counter. He had effected a citizen's arrest. The defendent gave Officer Blouin a written statement admitting the shoplifting, and was released on $50 bail. She appeared in Upland Justice court before Judge Fred H. Jacobs on Monday morning, pleaded guilty and was fined $100, with $50 suspended. The defendent was also placed on probation for one year, to report to the court once a month for six months.

CLOTHING OFF LINE

M. F. Brown, field manager for Upland Lemon Growers, 392 East A street, Friday morning called Officer Davis to the packing plant after an employe had reported the theft of a tire and wheel from an association trailer used to haul grove ladders. The trailer had been parked overnight on Twenty-third street, between Mountain and San Antonio avenues, with a chain locking the wheels to the trailer body. The theft was discovered by Mike Espinosa, an association foreman. The lock on the chain had been broken to release the wheel and tire.

Clothing missing from a clothes line was investigated last week by Officers Felix Quesada and Davis, when they were called to 381 East Eleventh street by Mrs. J. P. Callet. The latter reported she had hung out a wash on the clothesline to dry Wednesday afternoon. As the clothes did not dry by nightfall, they were left on the line overnight. Thursday morning Mrs. Callet discovered a line of shirts missing. Valued at a total of $15, the missing shirts are 10 flannel plaids in sizes four, five and six, and one striped polo shirt in size 10.

Child Safety Crusade County Observance

A loaded gun . . . a curious child.

This is the lethal combination which last year resulted in death for 550 youngsters under 15 years of age and serious injury to hundreds of other children.

Firearms and ammunition are among the many home area hazards to children being emphasized this week during a Child Safety Crusade sponsored by Dr. M. E. Cosand, San Bernardino County health officer.

A child's natural curiosity and fascination for firearms, combined with carelessness on the part of adults, can lead only to tragedy, according to Dr. Cosand.

"The young cowpuncher at your house does not see the difference between the cap pistol in his holster and the deadly automatic in your night stand," he warned. "A loaded gun can become a toy of death for an inquisitive child."

The health official said that the only way to prevent firearm accidents is to keep all guns and ammunition under lock and key at all times and to use special care in cleaning and loading or unloading of guns.

Upland Girl National Contest Winner

Felita Seitz Wins Fourth With Essay

MISS FELITA SEITZ

Felita Seitz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Seitz, 252 Eighth avenue, and a senior at Chaffey High school, is the fourth place prize winner in the Hallmark Hall of Fame national essay contest, and the recipient of $50 in cash.

The Upland girl, a pupil in the class of Mrs. Esther Close, submitted a 100-word essay on the life of Captain Lawrence Oates that was selected for an award from more than 15,000 entries representing schools in all 48 states.

WRITES OF EXPLORER

The contest, offering $3,500 in cash prizes to junior and senior high school students throughout the nation, was sponsored by Hallmark Cards, Kansas City, Mo., in connection with the firm's "Hall of Fame" network radio and television programs.

Students were asked to nominate and write about the person whose life they would most like to have dramatized on the air. Felita, writing on Capt. Oates South Pole explorer, said in part:

"Intense cold slowed their return. . . Oates' hands and feet became frost-bitten. Food was scarce, delay meant disaster. One morning Oates deliberately walked into a blizzard never to return. "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends'."

$25 TO CHAFFEY

A prize of $25 has also been awarded by Hallmark to Chaffey Union High school to be used for the library or a similar school-wide facility as a reward for having a major winner among the student entries.

Letters of notification, with prize money enclosed, have been mailed to all 116 national winners, the company announced, and winners' names have also been published in Scholastic magazines, weekly news periodicals for high school students.

$1 Garden Tour Tickets To Aid Euclid Project

Wide interest is expected to be shown in the spring garden tour here May 16.

All proceeds will go toward the fund to build the attractive fountain and pool on Euclid avenue parkway at Foothill boulevard .

Six gardens and homes will be open for inspection and persons going on the tour may obtain tickets for $1. Mrs. Dorothy Gardner, chairman of the Upland chamber of commerce beautification committee, is in charge of arrangements for the tour and is active in the group planning for the new scenic addition to the intersection.

Garden tour tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Gardner's gift shop, the J. J. Atwood Co., and The Upland News. Cash donations for the avenue addition are also being received by Mrs. Gardner.

Homes that will be open for inspection include those of Dr. and Mrs. Earl L. Wenger, 1607 North Euclid avenue; Mr. and Mrs. Basil Harris, just north of the Wenger home Mr. and Mrs. Leland Davidson, 2430 San Antonio Crescent, west; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Moser, 650 Alta Cuesta, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thomson, 368 Country club drive, Red Hill; Dr. and Mrs. Leslie Hoag, 1328 North Euclid avenue. The garden at the San Antonio Heights home of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Lindesmith, 1095 West Twenty-fifth street, will also be open for visitors.

The garden tours are being resumed after being omitted last year. It is likely they will be made an annual event to provide local people an opportunity to see some of the attractive residences and gardens in the community.

Cucamongans In Second Zoning Meeting Tonight

Residents of Cucamonga, south from Arrow highway to Eli street, will meet at 7:30 o'clock tonight at Cucamonga school, South Archibald avenue, to discuss desired zoning for that area of the Cucamonga district.

Garnet Jones of the County Planning commission will attend, according to Mrs. Ruth Nelson, Cucamonga Chamber of Commerce secretary. Mr. Jones will present a proposed zoning map of the area prepared by the county.

Residents and property owners of the area will be invited to ask questions, express opinions and join in discussion in an effort to obtain the zoning desired by the property owners.

Residents of Cucamonga from Baseline south to Arrow highway met last week for a zoning meeting. Earlier, Alta Loma residents met in such a meeting.

Mrs. Nelson said public hearings with the county in May for the entire Cucamonga-Alta Loma district on the proposed zoning is being planned.

This year there will be an estimated 530,000 new cancer cases in the United States (cases diagnosed for the first time).

School Appreciation

In many homes of the district every week is "public school week", but officially throughout the state the Masonic lodge is observing this week as a time of special emphasis on the schools, the staff and the educational program.

Parents and taxpayers should be concerned with the school program and it is fitting for the Masons to annually sponsor the special week. Naturally, parents should be concerned with what their children learn — and with their classroom instructors. Taxpayers should be concerned with the 1953-54 budget of $493,477.

In the Masonic hall tonight, Chaffey Superintendent Dan B. Milliken and Alexander McLeish will speak. They will discuss the future of the Upland branch of the Chaffey high school which is scheduled to have its first classes in 1955. Mr. Milliken will discuss the plans for the buildings and equipment and Mr. McLeish, who is scheduled to be the new principal here will discuss the curriculum.

Upland schools have long been rated as among the best in the southland due to the high type of instructors and the quality of the curriculum. We should appreciate our educational system—and the more we know about it, the more sincere will be our appreciation of it.

It is timely now to note that in the May 21 school board election, local voters have the opportunity of increasing to five the number of persons on the Upland board of education. This is a new provision in a state law and a majority of "Yes' votes will result in the change. We heartily endorse the suggestion as a means of providing presentation of more viewpoints among the board members.

Mrs. Raymond Kay is a candidate for re-election and other board members are Allan S. Barr and Dr. John Skewis. If voters approve the proposal to increase the board members, candidates for the additional positions are Mrs. Dean P. Engle, former president of the Upland Parent-Teacher association, and Jarvis J. Leman.

Uplanders are proud of their schools and honor the men and women who are willing to serve on the school board.

The Masonic lodge is rendering an outstanding service in focusing attention on the schools. Michael J. Hanna is chairman of the special event, and his interest and efficient planning are noteworthy.

A Ball Player Did It

A couple of hundred thousand people were present for the opening of major league baseball play a few days ago. The occasion always brings a great upsurge of interest and excitement but the tenseness of the crowds was very, very calm compared with the hushed apprehension of 11,000 people who saw the Chicago White Sox play their final exhibition game the previous week in Memphis, Tenn.

Cause of that tenseness was a ball player named Minnie Minoso. He is a White Sox star. Also he is a Negro. Never before had a Negro competed with white men in an athletic event in Memphis. Extra police were on hand.

The tension mounted, when Minoso's name was announced. He came to bat and the crowd made no demonstration whatever. He got on base. Cameramen took action shots of him. He was just another ball player in just another ball game!

It turned out that Memphis doesn't even have an ordinance banning mixed sports participation. And it turned out that nobody in that crowd was "tense" because of personal prejudice—but each thought all the rest were gripped by an unwritten law, presumably in existence since the civil war.

Now that this "unwritten law" has been washed from people's minds, another bright chapter has been written in the story of improved race relations.

A doctor, who should know, says that speaking about ailments, too many people go around doing just that.

Service to youth is as fine a contribution as any adult can make to the improvement of the community.

Why Asia Is Important

James Guthrie, editor of the San Bernardino Sun, who is in the east, heard Vice-President Richard M. Nixon discuss in detail why Asia is so important to this area. Mr. Nixon visited the countries of the Far East and Indochina recently and he frankly discussed the situation at the convention of American newspaper editors.

In discussing the far east problems he made the sensational statement that it might be necessary for America to send an army into Indochina if the Frecnh should decide to pull out of the war.

Mr. Guthrie observes "there are two lines of thought in Washington as the result of the vice-president's statement. One is that this is a trial balloon—to test public reaction and to prepare the nation for a decision with the deepest implications. The other theory is that the statement was designed to strengthen the determination of the allies to refuse concessions at the Geneva conference that would take the French out of Indichina.

"But there is no doubt at all that the administration is deeply concerned over the situation in Asia. Nixon detailed—in a masterful presentation of the complicated picture—just what the fall of Indochina would mean. The vice-president very probably was launching an administration move to seek full understanding of the critical situation that exists—and thus to secure a nationwide and free worldwide decision.

"Just why is Indochina so important to the free world? The question is asked on every side. The answer was spelled out by the vice-president. The fall of Indochina would indicate to all of Asia that the United States does not have the will or the power to win. Malaya, Burma, Thailand, would then be the objective of the Chinese Communists, urged on by Moscow. Japan must trade with Southeast Asia and if this region were controlled by the Communists, then Japan would have to bow to the Chinese and Russian regimes. The vice-president had personally viewed the situation in all these states; and then there is India, waiting to see whether Russia or the United States is to be the dominant force in world affairs. There could be a tragic future.

"Just how the young and vigorous vice-president is to come out of the sensational incident may be uncertain. But there wasn't the slightest doubt that the large majority who heard his address, and his forthright replies to the barrage of questions addressed to him, had full realization that the No. 2 man in the government is a strong character who is certain to leave his mark in national affairs."

Realistic View Needed

It is regrettable that more of the operation of the federal government is not based on a non-partisan attitude of what is best for the country rather than of what will get the most votes. Less politics with the yardstick being "what is best for America", the goal as expressed by President Eisenhower, is in order.

The recent tax cuts were far deeper than the president wanted, but Congressmen cut into the reduction with an apparent eye on the November ballot.

Everyone would like to shift the burden of taxes on to someone else but a realistic approach would more nearly keep the nation on a pay-as-you-go basis.

"Tomorrow" Is Convenient

Tomorrow, it has been said, is the world's greatest convenience—it's such an easy place to put things.

Tomorrow is also the world's storehouse of unfinished business. And the stuff in this storehouse often has a way of cluttering up our lives until it is cleared out. To be sure, some of the little procrastinations have no real effect on us. But others have.

Putting off until tomorrow the effort for personal improvement such as better grooming, being more patient and polite, learning to save money, developing promptness and the like can eventually lead up the blind alley of disappointment and failure.

We often wonder how many married men can remember back to the days when they used to envy married men.

Balanced judgment is a rare commodity, and one of the highest forms of human progress.

Coffee is good but more and more people are beginning to prefer money.

Travel is educational: it teaches appreciation of the home, among other things.

Chaffey Fair May 14-15

Nearly 3,000 Chaffey High school students and their faculty leaders, are this week shaping final plans for the 1954 huge indoor-outdoor Chaffey fair, the annual campus exhibition of student achievement in dozens of departments, clubs and activities. The traditional school-wide event, inaugurated in 1921, is expected to attract over 10,000 visitors during its two-day showing Friday and Saturday, May 14-15, on the Chaffey campus.

Climaxed both nights by Chaffey's famed musical show, the Extravaganza, the student Fair described as "Chaffey on Parade" has for its purpose the display of projects completed during the year in a wide variety of subjects, together with a general presentation of teaching materials, classroom and club activities, and special features — all aimed to inform as well as entertain.

In 1953, about 73,000 cancer patients who might have been saved, died because proper treatment was begun too late, according to ACS estimates.

CAMERA CORNER

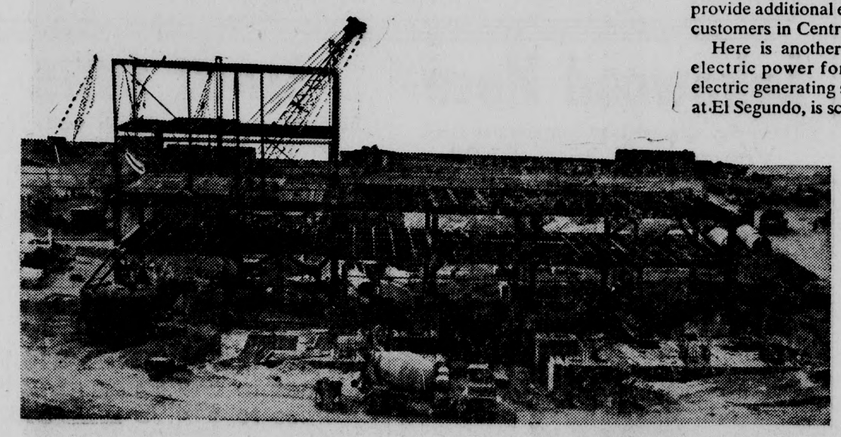

It used to be if it rained on the baby's birthday, you'd put the camera away sadly and hope for a sunny day next year. Not any more. You can use your camera anywhere, anytime, with the proper lighting equipment.

Just because the sun goes "out" and the rain comes down is no reason to put your camera away these days. There's not a single camera made that cannot be used indoors as well as outside from the box camera to the press camera. For box camera owners there's the hand-held Kodak flash units for $1.55. Nearly every camera sold on the market now is flash synchronized. Flash attachments are available from $3.95 up. We have the flash gun for the new G-E N 2 bulbs. The price of that is $6.95, and includes 10 flash bulbs.

For the movie maker, there are all sorts of light units from the Victor Clamp-on Floodlight for $2.75 to the bracket mounted quadruple light unit for $10.95. We can outfit any camera regardless of make, model, size, style, etc.

On the way: More power for YOUR future!

As an Edison customer, you are a member of one of the nation's fastest growing families. And you are discovering new ways each year to use electricity for comfort and convenience in your home. This combination adds up to the fact that you'll be needing more and more electric power as time goes on—and it is on the way right now!

Edison has spent almost half a billion dollars in the past eight years, and is spending another $73,000,000 in 1954 to provide additional electricity for the growing needs of Edison customers in Central and Southern California.

Here is another part of our program to provide more electric power for your future. It is our seventh steam-electric generating station. This one, now under construction at El Segundo, is scheduled to begin operation in July, 1955.

Smith Zone Change Recommended

Duplex, Triplex Units Planned

If Upland City council gives final approval to the proposed rezoning of 2 2/3 acres of land at the southeast corner of Seventh street and Sultana avenue, owned by Mrs. Pearl J. Smith, development of the first of a number of duplex and triplex units will be started immediately.

The request will be acted on by the Council at its regular meeting May 6, the Planning Commission having acted favorably on the request Thursday night.

Attorney W. W. Mather presented the rezoning request for Mrs. Smith, explaining her plans to proceed with the first unit construction on Sultana avenue, adjacent to her home on the south, if approval is granted. Mrs. Smith offered to provide the city with a contract granting the Commission rights to approve or veto architectural plans for any construction on the property. The Commission decided this action would be unnecessary. Attorney Mather explained that no apartment houses, motels or such units were planned, with good quality duplexes and triplexes only proposed.

A petition in favor of the rezoning was submitted with the signatures of a majority of the property owners immediately adjacent to the property proposed for rezoning. A second petition opposing the action was also submitted, and Kenneth Kumnick, 584 East Seventh street, spoke as a representative of those residents in opposition to the rezoning request.

In recommending the request to the Council for approval, the Commission noted that there is considerable property now zoned R-3 in Upland, but insufficient R-3 developed. Mrs. Smith's assurance of immediate development of at least one unit was favorably received by the Commissioners.

Foothill Owners Unite In Asking C-4 Zoning

Plans for a deluxe trailer park on Foothill boulevard have been abandoned by Fred Mineck of Pomona, having been refused a zone change which would permit such a development by Upland Planning commission Thursday night, but the local property owner announced plans to seek C-4 (highway commercial) zoning for the south side of Foothill boulevard, between Mountain and Benson avenues.

Mr. Mineck told an Upland News representative yesterday that he has contacted other property owners with frontage on Foothill boulevard in this area, now zoned agriculture, and all desire the commercial zoning. He emphasized that the groves in the area concerned are no longer productive enough to be maintained. The north side of Foothill in the same area is zoned C-4.

W. W. Mather, local attorney, has been engaged by Mr. Mineck to submit the application for changing the zoning of the area at the next meeting of the Commission on May 28. Mr. Mineck said he would be joined by other property owners concerned in retaining Mr. Mather.

In refusing the rezoning request for the Mineck property, Upland Planning commission continued its opposition to spot zoning. All reports received by the Commission from city departments were in opposition to any trailer park being established in Upland. Mr. Mineck stated he is abandoning his plans for a trailer park as he believed the Commission holds the same feeling regarding trailer parks as the city department heads.

Upland Barber Is Reserve Officer

A native Uplander, William D. Alexander conducts his business in Upland, resides in Ontario, and is an active member of the Upland Police Reserves. The son of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Alexander, 222 West Fifth street, Ontario, operates his barber shop at 222 East Ninth street, Upland. He joined the Reserves eight months ago.

Approve $40,000 Business Units

Two adjoining highway commercial business structures to cost an estimated $40,000 are scheduled for construction on the north side of Foothill boulevard between Benson and Central avenues.

A proposed self-service station and drive-in restaurant received initial approval at the Thursday night meeting of Upland Planning commission and now await final action by the city council on May 6.

S. A. Huffman submitted plans for the new business units proposed for the property where traffic islands are now installed. Approval of the Commission hinges on deeding of the border road and approval of the engineering department.

Hospital Interne Tells Lions Of Outstanding Service In Upland

It's a hospital that "smiles", John Towers, administrative interne described the San Antinio Community hospital in speaking at the meeting of the Upland Lions club at noon Thursday. He will soon conclude a year's service under the guidance of Administrator D. A. A. Aita, and he reported to the club on the happy attitude of the nurses and other employes and of the concern everyone associated with the institution has for the welfare of the patient.

Pictures showing the attractive hospital building and grounds and some of the special interior features were presented to emphasize his point the hospital presents the best possible atmosphere for a patient's recovery.

The hospital investment totals $2,000,000 and the annual cost of operation is $800,000, Mr. Towers said. Employes total 210.

Young men who want to be hospital administrators have the opportunity of participating in a seven-year educational program. Four years are for undergraduate study, one year for internship, then one year of graduate study and one year as a resident interne.

"I am sure that when I go back to the University of California at Berkeley in the fall and exchange experiences with others I will be able to report that nowhere was the cooperation so fine and the employes so cooperative as at San Antonio hospital."

Norman S. Lawson was program chairman. Charles Thompson assisted Mr. Towers in the pictorial presentation. President Joe Seitz presided.

Lemon Demand On Increase

With more normal supplies now available in all markets, prices on Southern California navel oranges have declined from the peak of the past two weeks but still hold at substantial levels. The 600 cars of navels sold by Sunkist Growers during the week ending April 24 averaged $4.85 a box f.o.b., or about $1.00 below the average of last week.

The Navel Orange Administrative committee set the prorate for the week ending May 1 at 650 cars of Southern California navels, 125 less than this week. Desert and Central California valencias are still moving without restriction and movement of those varieties next week is expected to add about 250 cars to the total volume going forward from the west.

Demand for California lemons continued to improve during the week ending April 24 as wholesalers showed more interest in increasing inventories in anticipation of warmer weather. Sunkist Growers sold about 300 cars of lemons during the week, in line with last week's volume and average prices showed a gain of 50c to around $6.00 a box f.o.b.

The original prorate for the week was increased 100 cars to a total of 450 by the Lemon Administrative Committee and a prorate of 450 cars was set by the Committee for the week ending May 1.

French Inspired Millinery In Dance Decorations

Mrs. George Kriegh, 535 West Twenty-fourth street, right seated, is fitted with a "Lilly-Dash-Hey" chapeau by Mrs. Michael Morgan, 762 Tulare way, who created several fanciful millinery designs for display at the "April in Paris" dance of Upland Woman's club Friday evening. Reflected in the mirror is the "Belle of Paree" model with a wide view from the Eifle tower, which surmounts the the crown, and echoing the tinkle of tiny bells outlining the narrow brim. Mrs. Kriegh selected the hat entitled "OO-La-La", which was designed to be whimsical with the other models, but whirh drew considerable attention 12 but which drew considerable admiration. A third hat display was an Alpine inspired creation of antique gold with gold buttons sprouting on springs and entitled "Swiss Movement." A sign on the display clarified the situation by explaining that "any similarity to Lilly Dasche, French hat designer of 56th street and Park avenue, New York, is a darn shame."

Public Invited To Observe Search

Southland CAP Units In Local Operation

This coming weekend, Saturday and Sundy, May 1-2, the entire southern district, California wing, Civil Air patrol, will move in on Cable-Claremont airport, Thirteenth and Benson avenues, Upland, to conduct a two day practice search operation.

Residents of this area will have their first opportunity to witness a full scale Civil Air patrol search and rescue operation involving all squadrons and groups in Southern California.

Instead of simulated "crashes" as their objectives, they will reopen the search for the staggerwing Beechcraft that crashed en route from San Fernando valley to Calexico last month and has never been found. It is hoped that it may now be uncovered by melted snows of the higher mountains.

As many as 100 aircraft and 400 personnel are expected to make the search base their home for the two day event. Each group will handle its own feeding, and search activities. The staff of California wing, Southern district office will observe and grade each group upon its efficiency and planning. The general public is welcome to watch the operation at Cable-Claremont airport.

Easter Bunny Provides Colorful Baskets

Children attending the Easter egg hunt given for employes and families of Western Mouldings, Inc., East Eighth street, Saturday afternoon, received their colorful baskets from the Easter bunny himself. The latter handed out the baskets from a hutch gaily decorated for the event. Receiving her basket from the bunny is Beverly Jean Crown, 4½, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Crown, Ontario, as two other children wait in line. In the center is Dixie Pellom, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Pellom, Ontario, and at the left is Phil Morphis, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Morphis, also of hunt.

Extravaganza May 14-15 With Pirate Theme

"Four Winds and the Seven Seas" is the theme of the Chaffey high school 1954 Extravaganza, the most elaborate and colorful variety show in its history. It will be presented in the Gardiner W. Spring auditorium at 8:15 p.m. May 14 and 15.

Theme of the Extravaganza is the result of a school-wide contest among the students to pick the best workable title. Polly Beckley, sophomore, who lives at 9770 Monte Vista, Alta Loma, came up with the winning suggestion and has won a pair of free tickets to the show.

The theme is a vehicle for the broad mixture of the pirate idea, some wonderful music, imaginative dancing, bizarre stage settings, and robust good humor. Basically, the plot will start off with a ship full of blustering pirates who are setting sail with a freshly captured treasure. However, in the course of their adventurous trip they are lured under water by King Neptune who is interested in extending his own liquid assets.

As he sees the leader of the pirates, a beautiful girl, the Pirate Queen, his ambition for the gold dampens; he not only agrees to release the whole crew from the blue, but also promises to build a brand new island for them in the Caribbean. The last act comes to a brilliant finale as the entire company shares in the warmth and jubilance of the new life on the island.

Faculty committee in charge of the production is as follows: Miss Ruth Krouch, chairman and director of chorale and Girls' ensemble; John Feeney, orchestra; Mrs. Lois Finerty and Mrs. Rachel Temple, costumes; Carl Hossler, scenery; Miss Joyce Holly, mixed chorus and advanced girls glee club and advanced boys glee club; Miss Joann Clauser, dances and chorus movements; Bill Simonsen, script and staging; Miss Mary Nunn, drill team; Joe Shanklin, stage crew; and Dale Stevens and Perry Polski, publicity.

There are 652 cancer clinics (approved by the American college of Surgeons) in operation in the United States.

Blackketter Upland College Assembly Prexy For 1954-55

In a run off election, Lewis Blackketter, Upland college sophomore, won the office of college Assembly president over Myron Mann. The run-off election was held last week after the two candidates received a tie vote in the primary election a week previous.

A third candidate for the office in the primary was Dan Jeran.

Freeway Bridge Designs Above U. S. Standard

Railings on the Euclid, Sultana and Campus avenue bridges over Ramona freeway (U. S. Highway 99) will remain unchanged, according to a letter from C. V. Kane, district engineer for the Division of Highways, Department of Public works, to Mayor Eugene G. Nisbet.

Based on the Division's national survey of bridge railings, Mr. Kane reports the local bridge railings as completely adequate and above national standard. The local railings are three feet, two inches high, measured from the surface of the sidewalk, while Mr. Kane reports that two-thirds of the states use a standard railing height of three feet or less.

He also reports that six inch openings between the vertical rails are standard, while the standard railing in the City of Los Angeles has horizontal rails, which a child can climb like a ladder.

He also points out that the local bridge railings are topped with a rounded, non-walkable rail.

As a result of the national survey and study of local conditions, the Division of Highways has adopted a height of three feet above the sidewalk as standard for all bridge railings. Wherever a bridge is adjacent to a school, park or other location frequented by children, the railing will be fabricated of steel with a rounded, non-walkable top, and balusters with six-inch openings.

Mr. Kane concludes his letter with the statement, "As the railing is of a higher standard than is in use in the greater portion of the nation, and also of a higher standard than we have now adopted for future construction, we feel confident that the people of Ontario and Upland will agree with us that the railing is as safe as can reasonably be provided."

College Housing Units Approved

Four housing units and garages will be constructed by John J. Hershberger on his property at 710 West Arrow highway, if final approval is granted by Upland City council May 6.

Upland Planning commission Thursday night approved the conditional use permit of Mr. Herschberger. The four-room dwellings would provide housing adjacent to the Upland college campus and would be in keeping with housing planned for the campus. Construction would be south of the Hershberger home, the lot having almost double depth.

M. F. Hirschman appeared regarding a variance for his property in the R-3 zone at the southwest corner of Washington boulevard and Tenth avenue. He announced plans to build a duplex unit, connecting with an existing non-conforming dwelling on the rear of the property to form a triplex unit. The Commission studied his plans and found them in good order, recommending that he file for a conditional use permit so that a hearing can be set for the next meeting of the Commission on May 28.

Gray T. Sampson, 382 Palm avenue, appeared requesting a variance in the setback requirements for a new home proposed for the front of his lot facing on Palm avenue. His plan was conceded to be in the interests of good planning, as it would establish a standard frontage setback for a block where irregular setbacks exist, but the Commission could not approve the request without a formal public hearing after published legal notice. Mr. Sampson at that time did not plan to wait another month for such a procedure to be accomplished but planned to proceed with construction requirements.

KAISER EMPLOYE

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Edinger are getting acquainted with Upland, having moved here from Riverside and La Jolla. They purchased the property at 372 South Campus avenue. Mr. Edinger is employed by the Kaiser Co. Mrs. Edinger has been active in woman's club work in La Jolla, their former home and more recently in Riverside.

Summer Movie Series Proposed For Children

A plan to present a summer season of Wednesday afternoon matinees of selected movies for children and parents is being submitted to parents of school children in the Upland and Ontario communities this week by Ontario council, Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Bulletins explaining the proposed venture have been sent home with the students, and parents interested in purchasing a $2.00 series book (season ticket) are urged to fill out a form enclosed and return to the school.

Approved by the local P-TA units, the plan is for a summer series of 12 weekly matinees at the California theatre during the summer months. The first matinee would be June 23 and the final program on September 8, with a 1:30 starting time to be observed.

Carefully selected short subjects, travelogues and cartoons would be shown as well as selected full length features, assuring wholesome, well-balanced entertainment. With a $2.00 charge for the 12 admissions, the season tickets would be transferable.

According to Mrs. W. A. Gilliland, president of the Ontario council of Parents and Teachers, the presentation of this summer series depends entirely upon immediate acceptance. Unless parents indicate their willingness to purchase season tickets before the termination of the current school term, the plan will be dropped. If accepted, three mothers will be present at each matinee to assist in adequate supervision. Each P-TA unit will be asked to participate in providing these mothers.

Telephone Excise Tax Reduction Now In Effect

Customers of General Telephone company are expected to save more than $4,000,000 on their telephone taxes this year as a result of the reduction of Federal excise taxes which became effective April 1 according to H. T. Powell, local exchange manager.

Mr. Powell said that the wartime excise taxes of 25 per cent on toll calls amounting to 25c or more and 15 per cent on exchange service have been reduced to a flat 10 per cent on both types of service.

RETIRED POMONAN

Mr. and Mrs. John Crockett have purchased the residence at 322 South Campus avenue, coming here from Pomona, where for many years Mr. Crockett was a Pomona city employe. He worked for the Pomona street department.

Exciting Week Reported By Seascouts Home From Cruise

Upland Seascouts returned home Sunday night after a week-long cruise along the Pacific coast in the yacht, "Resolute," which culminated two years of planning for the Seascouts of the S. S. S. Tigershark.

Before returning to the mainland Sunday afternoon, the boys attended Easter church services at Avalon on Catalina island. Both the Seascouts and leaders praised the week's cruise as one of the finest experiences they have ever had.

VISIT CHANNEL ISLANDS

Starting the cruise Saturday, April 10, the Scouts first sailed to Catalina, then cruised north to Santa Barbara island. A visit to Santa Cruz island was disrupted by daily radio warnings of the firing of guided missiles from Pt. Mugu Naval test station.

One night was spent off Santa Barbara island, one of the smallest of the channel islands, and the Seascouts went ashore where a lighthouse installation exists. The island is heavily infested with rabbits, and the scouts learned of how fishermen and sailors put rabbits ashore in the early days to establish a fresh meat supply there. They also heard of the battle of survival which continued for years between the rabbits and cats which were also left on the island.

IN CATALINA WATERS

Returning to Emerald bay, Catalina, the Resolute spent another night off famous Avalon and then spent subsequent nights in Big Geiger and Little coves on the lee side of the island.

Saturday the local Seascouts were joined by Councilman E. Tweed Stone, and Ship Committeeman M. F. Hirschman and his daughter Donna. Mr. Hirschman took over aboard the Resolute as mate when Wallace Randleman, serving as mate, returned ashore by water taxi.

Saturday night the Resolute returned to Avalon for Sunday church services ashore. Following the Easter services, the anchor of the Resolute was hoisted and the group was underway to San Pedro, where they sailed into the Fleitz brothers anchorage in the outer harbor at 5:15 p.m., with a spanking breeze sending the ship right in to the landing.

OCEAN, ISLAND ACTIVITIES

Activities of the Seascouts on the cruise included diving for abalone, with their catches providing two full meals, one of abalone steak and one of chowder. They also aqauplaned behind the yacht and its outboard boat, fished and swam in the Pacific waters. One group expenditioned into the Catalina hills with Captain Ed Fabian.

Biggest difficulty encountered by the Seascouts was staying awake on their night watches. The Resolute was run as a navy or merchant ship would have been, operating with organized crews and on a ship's schedule. Captain Fabian was highly commended by Commodore C. W. Wilson and other Seascout leaders for his participation in the cruise. The leaders accompanying the Seascouts included Commodore Wilson, Skipper Raymond "Torgy" Wilson and Mate Randleman.

May 22 Benefit LL Breakfast

It will be a big community breakfast in Upland Memorial park May 22 as a benefit for the Little League baseball activity.

With all food donated and with scores of local people volunteering to assist, gross receipts from a four-hour breakfast will go toward financing the summer sport for many scores of local youths.

Francis E. Wilson, president of the Upland Baseball commission, said tentative arrangements are being completed for the annual breakfast. Breakfast will be served from 7 to 11 a.m. four weeks hence.

Park facilities will be used to capacity to serve all interested persons in the community, a duplication of last year's highly successful benefit.

With Little league activity increasing constantly, additional money is needed to provide funds for the expanded program, according to the popular and hard working Mr. Wilson.

Little Leaguers Brush Up In Clinic Play

Kenny Storms, returning for another season of Little League baseball, throws himself into the game as he pitches in practice during the clinic held last week. Umpiring the game is John Miguelena, left. Returning leaguers spent considerable time playing practice games the latter part of the week, under the supervision of Jack Diaz and Kenneth Smith. Coach Harvey Shirk, assisted by Coach Ira Francisco, worked with the younger players new to league play. Pony league clinic sessions continue through Saturday, 10-12 a.m.

Coin Magazine Honors Draper

Fred E. Draper, 594 Laurel avenue, was recently featured in a story published by Calcoin News, official magazine of the California State Numismatic association.

The latter group is the state organization of coin collectors, and the Uplander was its featured member in the March issue. A monthly feature entitled "Who's Who in California Numismatics," told of Mr. Draper's collection and his civic activities here.

In publishing this report, The News observes National Coin week, April 25-May 1.

In the story, Mr. Draper was lauded for the coin collection he started in 1936. "I tried to complete a set of Indian head cents before a friend could. Then I really became interested," he was quoted as saying. Included in his collection are U. S. coins by types only, local national currency, coins of Canada, and crown-size coins of the world. Of the four collections, the local national currency appeals to the local collector the greatest.

His coin library contains The Numismatist complete from August, 1938, about 75 bound volumes, and hundreds of priced auction catalogs dating from 1909.

A native of Manitabo, Canada, Mr. Draper has served as treasurer of the San Bernardino county Coin club (1950), and as a director of the Orange county Coin club (1952). During National Coin week observances of the past five years, he has won three published ANA awards for his exhibits.

An Upland resident for 34 years, Mr. Draper has served in many capacities locally as a civic leader. A partner in the Draper-Walton Insurance agency, he is also president of the J. B. Draper Co. mortuary of Ontario.

Tigers Thrash Riverside

Redlands will come to Chaffey this afternoon for a game with the Chaffey High school Tigers, who hit the win column again Friday with an 8-3 thrashing delivered the Riverside Poly Bears. It was the sixth straight win for Hurler Sam Gold.

Gil Quesada, Bill Smith and Carl Bare led the Tiger aggregation to victory. Quesada socked out three runs on two hits in five times at bat. Bare contributed three singles on three trips to the plate, and Smith added a double to drive in one run.

The Bears were held scoreless until the seventh frame, with Coach Ken Proctor's nine in possession of a seven point lead. A mild rally in the bottom of the ninth failed to hold water for the Bears, when Gold struck out his third man with two on base.

Tuesday the Bengals host San Bernardino and the following day travel to Santa Ana.
